MISCELLANEOUS READING. IMPROMPTU LINES Addressed to Miss S. E. W, of Culpeper, Vs. Oh! may thy path be bright and fair.
Thro' life's vain course of sun and sunde And should a cloud e'er hover there, Soon may it from thy presence fade!

May all thy sopes be ever crown'd, With brilliant and the best success. And love and friendship e'er be found, To know thee, and thy name to bless.

May time to whose destroying wing. E'en beauty's bloom must be resign'd, O'er thee its years so gently fling, They shall not leave a trace behind

Oh, may thy sky be e'er serene. As long as thou shalt here remain, Thy life a glorious, happy scene, Of peace and joy -unknown to pain. And when on earth thou sink'st to rest, Then may thy spirit take its flight,

Where thou shalt be forever blest Within the realms of pure delight! January 16, 1858. A DIRGE .- BY REV. GEORGE CHOLY. "Earth to earth, and dust to dust!" Here the evil and the just, Here the youthful and the old, Here the fearful and the bold, Here the matron and the maid,

In one silent bed are laid; Here the vassal and the king. Side by side he withering; Here the sword and sceptre rust "Earth to earth, and dust to dust!" Age on age shall roll along O'er this pale and mighty throng; Those that wept them, those that weep, All shall with these sleepers sleep. Brothers, sisters, of the worm-Summer's sun, or Winter's storm. Song of peace, or battle's roar,

Ne'er shall break their slumbers more;

Death shall keep his sullen trust. Earth to earth, and dust to dust!" But a day is coming fast, Earth, thy mightiest and thy last; It shall come in fear and wonder. Heralded by trump and theoder, It shall come in strife and tor. It shall come in blood and spoil, It shall come in empires' groans, Burning temples, trampled thrones; Then, Ambition, rue thy lust!

"Earth to earth, and dust to dust!" Then shall come the Judgment sign, In the East the King shall shine; Flashing from Heaven's golden gate, Thousand thousands round his state, Spirits with the crown and plume Tremble then, thou sullen tomb! Heaven shall open on our sight, Earth be turned to living light, Kingdoms of the ransomed just,

Earth to earth, and dust to dust! Then thy mount, Jerusaiem, Shall be gorgeous as a gera; Then shall in the desert rise Fruits of more than Paradise; Earth by angel teet be trod. One great garden of her God! Till are dried the martyr's tears Through a thousand glorious vears Now in hope of Him we trust. "Earth to earth, and dust to dust!"

HEART-WISDOM. 'Tis weak to nine for pleasure past, or scorn Our happiest days, like frailest flowers must die The winds that take the blossom leave the thorn To some hard trouble all of us are born; Blessed a day with sighs, if we can dry
